

EMPURIOS

In april 2006, the debut demo 'Drowned Earth' made known the name Empürios. Exceeding expectations, this release has established the band in the specialized media and gathered many fans across the country. About 4 years later, the band prepares to release their first full-length , an album marked by sound consistency mixing different influences in a very unique way.

Entitled "Cyclings", the album presents heavy songs and strong melodies, along with atmospheric sound and progressive influence. These ingredients result in a style which, although unique, its catchy and easily recognizable. Even thou the themes are complex, they flow naturally thanks to the harmony between the artistic concept and the music itself.

Together, Thiago Alves' drums and Luiz Freitag's bass guitar build up a solid structure, a basis for the heavy 7-string duo Renata Decnop and Iury Alonso. With Marcos Ceia's unmistakable synthesizers, Empürios reaches its climax with Fernanda Decnop's strong and remarkable vocals.

The album is in its final stage of production, due to release in March 2011 and expectations are worthy of a great brazilian metal promise. Get Ready!
